The One Who Lives Again

1. When Christ a-rise, He turned the tide of hu-man his-to-ry
2. When Christ a-rise, He of-fered liv-ing hope to Ad-am's race
3. When Christ a-rise, He pried a-part the i-ron grip of sin
4. When Christ a-rise, He earned the right of u-ni-ver-sal praise.

By deal-ing out a crush-ing blow to His arch-en-e-my,
By swal-low-ing the sting of death and stand-ing in our place.
And gave us strength to walk a-new be-neath His right-eous reign.
The high ac-claim of His great name will ring through end-less days.

Be-fore His ris-en glo-ry, fiend-ish foes flee in dis-may,
Re-fus-ing to al-low His Ho-ly One to see de-cay,
The si-ent, em-py tomb pro-claims these words for all to hear,
A-lone He walked the path of death; a-lone the Lamb was slain.

For-ev-er thrown in-to a state of help-less dis-ar-ray,
Our God will make His own com-plete on Res-ur-rec-tion Day.
“Your sin-ful self is cru-ci-fied by res-ur-rec-tion pow’r!”
To-geth-er ev-ry tongue will sing the hon-or of His name.

The One Who Lives Again

Praise the One who lives; Praise the One who lives again;
Praise the One who lives; Praise the One who lives again;
Praise the One who lives; Praise the One who lives again;
Praise the One who lives; Praise the One who lives again;

Praise the One who lives again for seizing victory!
Praise the One who lives again to cancel our disgrace!
Praise the One who lives again for breaking every chain!
Praise the One who lives again whose glory owns our gaze!
